

Nicaragua and Mexico Desert U. S. Foes' Camp

Yanks Gain More Backers at Havana Parley.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 19.—Development at the pan-American conference today indicated that threatened opposition to the policies of the United States in dealing with backward Latin American countries, particularly in the Caribbean region, is rapidly evaporating. A canvass of the delegations of Nicaragua, Salvador, Colombia, Chile, and Argentina, which were expected to be fomenting movements in the conference antagonistic to the United States, produced only disclaimers of any such intentions.

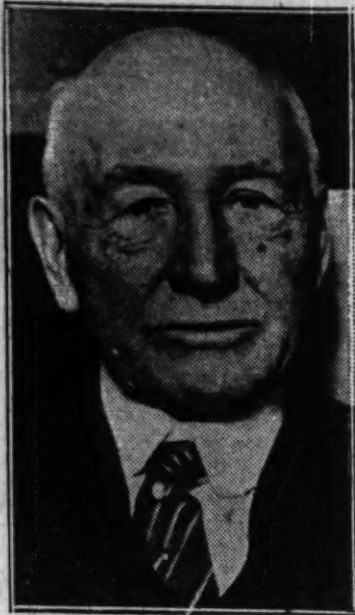

Julio Garcia and Fernando Gonzalez, both of the Mexican delegation denied that Mexico is or will be a party to any movement designed to force the United States to abandon its policy of policing the Caribbean for the protection of its interests and lives.

Mexico Gives Way to U. S.
Casual significance attaches to the disclaimer because the latest activity of the United States in policing the Caribbean—namely, its intervention in Nicaragua—has been justified by President Coolidge on the ground that our interests in Nicaragua are based on our option on a second isthmian canal route across that country were being menaced by a revolution fomented and financed in Mexico. The attitude of the Mexican delegates indicates instructions by their government in conformity with the recent rapprochement between the United States and Mexico, signalled by the annulment of Mexico of confiscatory sections of the oil land laws.

Any disposition that may materialize in the conference to arrange the United States for its intervention in Nicaragua will lack the support of the Nicaraguan delegation, headed by Carlos Cordero Famos. Of course, this is as significant as it might be, inasmuch as the Nicaraguan delegation was appointed by the Diaz government, which is being maintained in power by the United States, and naturally would be on the side of the United States in any dispute in the conference involving justification of its intervention.

Liberals Back U. S. Troops.
It happens, however, that if the question should arise, the Nicaraguan delegation will be able to submit in writing the request of the faction opposed to Diaz (the Liberals) that the United States maintain marines in Nicaragua and supervise the election of a president this year. The defection of Mexico and Nicaragua from the ranks of countries which were

Cronin Trial Judge Back in City

SAMUEL P. McCONNELL.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Former Judge Samuel P. McConnell, now 78 years old, who presided in Chicago in the famous Cronin murder case of 1925, returned to Chicago yesterday to represent Charles E. Grosse, wealthy realty operator of Pasadena, Cal., who is opposing his mother and his eight brothers and sisters before Superior Judge Harry Fisher. Grosse is seeking to set aside, on the ground of undue influence, a codicil to the will of his father, Henry C. Grosse, who died in 1925, leaving a $400,000 estate. Grosse, a retired saloonkeeper, who dealt in real estate, drew a will in 1923, and provided that his estate would be held in trust for the benefit of his widow, Mrs. Grosse of 450 Briar place, and that on her death the estate would be divided equally among their nine children. In 1924 he wrote a codicil cutting off Charles with $100. The other Grosse children are: Walter and Henry Albert of Los Angeles; Frank, 1613 Morse avenue; William, 1210 Thorndale avenue; Mrs. Charlotte Keator, Glencoe; Mrs. Edith Thornton, 915 Aldrie place; Mrs. Marian Kenny, 426 Briar place, and Mrs. Genevieve Moyer, 5941 Greenview avenue.

reputed to be concocting trouble for the United States in this conference appears to have been virtually fatal to any such movement.

Argentina is the source of much of the criticism of the United States. Various groups and newspapers in that country professed to find in the Nicaraguan incident proof that the United States is bent on annexing Central America. If not South America, it does not appear that the Argentine government, however, shares such hallucinations, for Honorable Pueyrredon, chief of the Argentine delegation, is exhibiting a most friendly attitude toward the "Colossus of the north." He has turned thumbs down on various schemes of such trouble for the United States in this conference.

Reputed Foe, He Favors U. S.
J. Gustavo Guerrero, foreign minister of Salvador, came to the conference heralded as a prospective organizer of plots to put an end to intervention by the United States in Central America, but Señor Guerrero since arriving on the scene has been one of the sweet singers in the Pan-American choir. He fervently disclaims any designs antagonistic to the United States.

Whether these professions of friendliness may be taken at face value only time will tell. The test will come in the conference on the projected rule of international law that no state may intervene in the internal affairs of another. As by this rule it is intended to deprive the United States of the right of intervention such as it has exercised in Cuba, Haiti, Mexico, Santo Domingo, Panama, and Nicaragua, the issues will be joined and there will be a showdown disclosing which Latin American countries stand with and which against the United States.

Organize Conference Committees.
The conference committees were organized today, interest centering in the committee on reorganization of the Pan-American union and the committee of the codification of public international law, in which the attacks

QUARANTINE ALL CHICAGO DOGS IN FIGHT ON RABIES

Drastic Action Taken by State in Crisis.

Suddenly clamping a dog quarantine on Cook county, state authorities last night took the most drastic step thus far in a fight to stamp out the epidemic of hydrophobia sweeping through Chicago and its suburbs.

The quarantine, which is the first on record here, was ordered by S. J. Standard, state commissioner of agriculture, and F. A. Laird, state veterinarian, acting on the joint recommendation of state, city, and suburban town health commissioners, who advised them that the epidemic has reached a critical stage. State's Attorney Crowe was notified to enforce the ruling rigidly and for an indefinite time.

Forbidden to Ship Dogs.
Under the quarantine dogs can be taken neither into nor out of the county nor shipped from place to place within it. It will be unlawful for railroads to transport them without a special permit. Violations of the quarantine carry a $25 to $100 penalty.

"The city will go the limit in helping the state authorities," announced Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel. "It is futile for us to try to curb rabies here when infected dogs every day are brought in. It is equally unfair to imperil other communities by letting the disease be spread from here. We are hoping that the public realizes that this is not merely a mad dog scare and will cooperate with us."

Statistics Show Peril.
Dr. Kegel made public for the first time official figures to show the extent of the epidemic in Chicago.

Between Jan. 1 and Jan. 18, a total of 272 persons were bitten by dogs, the largest number, 25, on Jan. 13 and the smallest number, 5, on Jan. 1. Exactly 100 persons now are taking the Pasteur treatment for rabies at the health department. Out of 54 dogs' heads brought to the department for examination, 48 were found to have had the disease.

JUDGES QUARREL OVER WHICH GETS HICKMAN TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 19.—[Special.]—Differences as to which judge will hear the murder trial of Edward Hickman, accused of kidnaping and slaying Marion Parker, arose between judges of the Los Angeles county Superior court today.

Presiding Justice Victor McLucas was on one side of the altercation and Judge Carlos F. Hardy, chief criminal judge and a former Chicago attorney, on the other.

In all previous stages of Hickman's prosecution for murder—both the slaying of the Parker child and the holdup murder of C. Ivy Thomas—Judge Hardy has had Hickman in court before him. Hickman is scheduled to appear before the same jurist next Wednesday.

Judge McLucas today cited the custom of the Superior court, which has been for the chief criminal judge to hear pleas and arraignments, and to assign cases to another judge for hearing.

REPLY BY LEGION POST SLAMS AT MAYOR'S APPEAL

Refuses to Aid War on Supt. McAndrew.

"Cats-pawing dirty chestnuts out of the fire of partisan politics" is not a function of the American Legion, Mayor William Hale Thompson was told yesterday in a communication from the Eaton Friddy post of the American Legion.

The letter was a reply to the mayor's appeal to the legion to urge the four minority members of the board of education to vote with the Thompson solid six against Supt. William McAndrew, who has been on trial.

Edward Clamague, chairman of the Cook county council of the American Legion, last week recommended that all posts in the county suspend action on the mayor's appeal until the matter could be investigated. He resented, he said, the attempt to bring the legion into Mayor Thompson's controversy with Mr. McAndrew.

"In replying to your most enlightening document regarding the situation in our schools during the McAndrew regime, I might answer you quite briefly and respectfully to the effect that any action my post might take in this 'great cause' would be in the name of Mr. McAndrew," the letter, signed by J. B. Marshall, vice commander of the Eaton Friddy post said. "This American Legion of ours is not generally found cats-pawing dirty chestnuts out of the fire of partisan politics. Occasionally, it is true that you, along with other politicians of your type, have been able to rope in a few of our more gullible members and have made some capital of their political support. In this particular case this campaign of yours is nothing but partisan politics."

Washing under crossing gates in their hurry to avoid tardiness at school, two 11 year old girls were killed yesterday morning at the Austin boulevard crossing of the Metropolitan railroad when they were struck by a Westchester express train.

Mary Steffens, 1033 Lyman avenue, Oak Park, was killed instantly. Her cousin, Imelda Lorgion, 1011 South Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, lived a few moments but died on the way to the Austin Memorial hospital. Both were students at the Ascension parochial school, Van Buren street and Clarence avenue, Oak Park.

Having loitered too long at Imelda's home discussing a party they were to attend Saturday, the two girls were hurrying to school. The crossing gates were down to allow an east bound Garfield park train to pass. The girls did not see an approaching west bound express train and ducked under the gates to cross, eluding a watchman who attempted to stop them.

BOOMS GOV. SMITH

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—The Montgomery Advertiser, in commending Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York to the voters of the state for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, tomorrow will say that it considers Gov. Smith "the greatest Democrat of his time, who is at once a great American and a citizen of blameless life."

In a thousand word editorial the Advertiser asks: If Gov. Smith "is not worthy to lead the Democratic party at this critical period of its history, will some one be good enough to suggest a better captain?"

Summing up Gov. Smith's qualifications for the Democratic leadership as "the most romantic political figure in our national annals since the storied rise of the rail splitter," "the present governor of his day" and an "amazing Democrat who has repeatedly demonstrated his invincibility in a nominally Republican state," the Advertiser concludes: "We therefore tender him our pledge of allegiance and confidence and commend him unreservedly to the Democracy of Alabama."

The editorial comes as a sharp climax to the row precipitated on the floor of the United States senate yesterday between Senator Thomas Heflin of Alabama and Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, senate Democratic leader. The Advertiser has consistently and persistently fought Senator Heflin's attempts to get the church into politics.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS SPEEDED TO FIT NO PARKING LAW

Council Clash Expected on Loop Ban Today.

With a view of giving motorists full advantage of the loop parking ban, traffic lights in the loop have been readjusted to permit an average speed of fourteen miles an hour, Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, announced yesterday.

"There have been many complaints that even with the streets clear, the red lights keep a driver from moving any faster than he did before," Mr. Sorenson explained. "That is a mistaken idea. Before the parking ban the lights were shifted to permit a speed of 12 miles an hour ordinarily and 8 miles in rush hours. Now the lights permit a speed of 14 miles an hour in rush hours, and we may speed them up even more."

Accidents are Reduced.
Careful studies are being made on the new problem of adjusting the red and green flashes under the new conditions. Mr. Sorenson said, but the speeding up process has been gradual to avoid accidents.

Capt. Matchett of the police traffic division tells me that, in spite of the faster movement of traffic, accidents have been cut 50 per cent," Sorenson said. "That may be too large an estimate, but certainly there is nothing to allegations that accidents have increased."

Clash is Expected Today.

Friends and foes of the no-parking law are expected to clash today before the city council's traffic committee. The committee will meet at 2 p. m. to consider a resolution by Ald. John Coughlin (1st), leader of the anti-parking group, demanding repeal of the ordinance which he declares has proved a detriment to business in a ten day trial.

Against the Coughlin group is pitted a larger one, headed by Mr. Sorenson and Ald. T. J. Bowler (41st), chairman of the committee, maintaining that the ban is a success.

BOGAN TO TELL VIEWS ON NEW VACATION IDEA

William J. Bogan, acting superintendent of schools, will be invited to appear before the city council's schools committee at its next meeting to discuss a proposal to eliminate the school's spring vacation and postpone for one week the opening of the fall term.

Ald. Max Adamowski (39th) brought the suggestion before the committee in a resolution pointing out that during the first part of September last year the weather was so hot the schools had to be dismissed.

Mr. Bogan will also be asked to discuss another resolution of Ald. Adamowski's proposing a school for mentally deficient children.

51 CHURCH MEMBERS DENIED COURT AID IN OUSTER FIGHT

Superior Judge Walter P. Steffen yesterday denied a petition of 51 members of the Humboldt Park Gospel Tabernacle to enjoin the elders from ousting them from the church. The court also refused to restrain the elders from barring the petitioners from teaching in the Sunday school or singing in the choir. The judge held that the church officers were the supreme court in these affairs.

However, Judge Steffen granted the petitioners a temporary injunction to prevent the elders from any action affecting the title to the $200,000 church property. Defendants in this litigation between warring factions in the congregation are Frank Ede, Edwin A. Field, William Snyder and Nels Olson. The schism developed, it was said, from differences over the appointment of a pastor.

SEIZE TWO WITH GUN.
Max Kane, 30 years old, 5450 South Michigan avenue, and Abe Epstein, 23 years old, 5038 West 69th street, were arrested by Sarge Gary and Sweeney near the detective bureau last night. A pistol was found in the automobile in which they were riding.

WARRANT ISSUED TO TEST STOLL'S MEXICAN DIVORCE

A warrant for the arrest of Charles A. Stoll, former president of the Lorel Rug corporation, 4247 Lincoln avenue, has been issued on petition of Mrs. Hattie J. Stoll, of 5135 North Robey street, it was learned yesterday. Mr. Stoll obtained a divorce from her last August in the courts of Nogales, Mexico, and has since remarried, but the woman whom he married in 1901 refuses to recognize the validity of the Mexican decree and she asked for the warrant on a charge of wife abandonment.

Police have been unable to serve the warrant. Stoll, with his bride, has not returned to Chicago since his divorce and marriage, so far as is known. His attorney, Frank J. Link, says Stoll is in Indiana.

Today, it was announced by the firm of Socrates and Davis, attorneys for Mrs. Hattie J. Stoll, a bill will be filed in court to annul the Mexican divorce on the contention that the decree was obtained to circumvent the laws of Illinois. Mr. Stoll has a separate maintenance suit pending but it is to no effect so long as deputy sheriffs are unable to serve Stoll with a summons within the jurisdiction of the court.

Several weeks ago Attorney Link proposed before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath, to submit his client to the jurisdiction of the court for the purpose of determining whether Illinois should recognize the Mexican divorce. It was proposed to try the case on stipulated facts, but the opposing lawyers were unable to agree on procedure.

Last night Attorney Nicholas A. Socrates said service may be obtained against Stoll by publication of notice and the suit to annul the Mexican divorce might be tried even if he remains absent. If Stoll remains in Indiana, the annulment of his decree, making his second marriage illegal, might be granted by default, the lawyer pointed out.

Polls Official Given Year in Jail on Fraud Charge

George Guzzardo, election judge in the Twelfth precinct of the Forty-second ward in November of 1925, yesterday was sentenced by County Judge Edmund K. DU PAGE COUNTY PUTS CANDIDATES THROUGH PACES

Hears Office-seekers of G. O. P. Speak for Selves

BY JAMES DOHERTY.
Women of Du Page county decided to look into the qualifications of Republican candidates for state offices and, accordingly, the candidates yesterday were being sent hither and yon throughout the county under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie H. Dixon, chairman of the Women's County Republican club.

The office seekers spoke mostly about themselves, advancing reasons intended to convince the feminine constituency to vote for them. Charles W. Hadley, candidate for attorney general and former state's attorney of Du Page county, was at home among his audiences, so he took the United States senate to task for its action in refusing to seat Frank L. Smith as senator for Illinois.

Takes Senate to Task.
"This is a period of growing disregard for law, a rebellion against rules of conduct and a period marked by the degenerating of governmental authority," Hadley declared. "We have looked to the senate to lead and guide us with wisdom but today we see that august body trampling on the rights of a great state."

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom and Secretary of State Louis L. Emerson, candidates for governor; Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for congressman at large; Senator Earl B. Searcy and Supreme Court Clerk Charles W. Vall, candidates for secretary of state, and Parole Supervisor Hinton G. Chabough, candidate for lieutenant governor, were the state candidates Mrs. Dixon had crisscrossing the county all day, each having a designated hour and town for his speeches.

The candidates were of no particular faction, nor were any of them considered as running mates of any of the others. The women saw to it that the day's events were conducted in a business like manner and no candidate could make political hay of the fact he was some other person's friend.

Ruth McCormick a Speaker.
Naturally the women expressed just a little more interest in the candidacy of Mrs. McCormick, whose husband, the late United States Senator Medill McCormick, was once congressman at large for Illinois. Because both her husband and her father, the late United States Mark Hanna, had been active in politics and because she has been national committeewoman for Illinois for many years, Mrs. McCormick said she felt she was qualified to be a congressman.

Attorney General Carlstrom and Secretary of State Emerson did not mention Gov. Small by name, but they did say that at present they are the only Republicans seeking his office. Because both of them are seeking a promotion, their own offices are available to others and though there were two sets of rivals, all gathered for the final meeting of the day at Wheaton, there were no verbal encounters. All obeyed that woman's injunction: "Speak for yourself, John."

Governorship Candidates Talk.
Emerson spoke of his service to the state for twelve years and expressed confidence he would be the next governor. Carlstrom said "the opportunity is at hand to redeem the good name of Illinois." Then he touched on road building.

"I promise the people of Du Page and of every other county," he said, "that when I am elected governor they will not have to come hat in hand and beg for their hard roads. The roads are coming to the people—$100,000,000 has been voted for them. There will be no political trading on hard roads when I am governor."

REPORT MORGAN TO BUY UP SHARES IN MEXICAN BANK

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—This afternoon's press carried a notice, without claiming it was from an official source, that the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. intends to purchase shares of the Banco Mexico remaining unissued.

The Banco Mexico is the republic's sole bank, which already has issued upwards of 10,000,000 pesos [$5,000,000] in paper money, backed by a gold reserve. The bank was established during President Calles' term of office and was capitalized at 100,000,000 pesos [$50,000,000], of which shares to the extent of 51 per cent belong to the government. The other portion of the capital is in the hands of various banking interests, but forty per cent still unissued will, according to the report, be bought by J. P. Morgan & Co.

The report says a proposal is afoot in the United States' interest to augment the bank's capital to insure facilities necessary both to Mexican industrial and commercial circles and American interests operating in Mexico, but it is understood that control always will remain in the hands of the Mexican government.

SHOWDOWN NEAR IN SMALL'S FIGHT FOR APRIL VOTE

Scheduled to Meet Mayor in Parley Today.

BY PARKE BROWN.
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 19.—[Special.]—Preparations for a showdown as to whether there is to be an April primary, including an advisory vote on presidential candidates, or only a fall primary for nominations after the presidential conventions are out of the way, became apparent today.

Gov. Len Small, who still steadfastly proclaims himself a champion of the former system, left for Chicago where he probably will talk again with Mayor William Hale Thompson, tomorrow. The question he will ask probably will be whether the Thompson-Crowe organization will once more reverse itself and support the April project.

COAST FLYERS FAIL TO SET NEW DURATION RECORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 19.—(AP)—An exhausted fuel supply today forced Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, British aviator, and Lieut. George B. Ford, U. S. N., to earth after two days and nights aloft in the monoplane Spirit of California had brought them within striking distance of a new world's endurance flight record.

The airmen landed with empty gasoline tanks at Mills field. They had been in the air fifty hours and seven minutes. By prolonging the flight three hours and 15 minutes the fliers could have established a new world mark.

similar drops may be expected each week unless they see that something is to be accomplished. It was disclosed that the Democratic organization has forty signatures on its round robin for a fall primary. This is considered more than enough to block the April bills, even with the maximum attendance. In addition, there are a number of Republicans who did not wish to sign up, thereby placing themselves open to criticism as opponents of a presidential preference vote, and who say they will stand with the minority party when the time comes.

Bloc Well Organized.
"The members know," said a Democratic leader today, "that there is no hope of passing primary bills either next week or the following week. Consequently, the attendance is going to drop off steadily. It dropped from 135 last week to 128 this week, and

MRS. PETERSON ALL SET TO WIN SPARE TIRE WAR

She Won't Forget to Load
Her Pistol Again.

For three weeks Mrs. Charles S. Peterson, wife of the city treasurer of Chicago, has been waging a stern battle with never say die thieves for possession of a red disk wheel and the attached tire on the rear of her new automobile.

Seven times in the twenty-one days the thieves have succeeded in cutting the straps on the wheel as the car rolled in front of the Peterson home at 17 East Elm street. Once, the first time, they got away with the wheel. Following this Mrs. Peterson purchased a new tire, a new wheel, and a new pistol.

Forgets to Load Pistol.
The second time they came Mrs. Peterson was lying in wait behind the curtains of a front room. As the men stopped and began to cut away the binding she ran out. The thieves fled without the wheel. Mrs. Peterson tried to fire.

"I just forgot," she said, "to load that pistol. I ran half a block after their car, but I couldn't load in time to shoot."

Then, about two weeks ago, she and several guests were preparing to leave for the opera when the word came that the tire takers were again at work. They fled as the Peterson chauffeur and a guest, W. S. McHenry, ran out while Mrs. Peterson was reaching for her weapon.

McHenry and the chauffeur pursued the thieves and cornered them in Delaware place. But neither was armed and the enemy escaped after felling the chauffeur with a piece of pipe.

Finally Appeals to Police.
The third, fourth, fifth and sixth attempts were frustrated. Finally Mrs. Peterson asked the police for assistance. Last night Sergt. Charles Troughton and Casimir Jarka of the Chicago avenue station were hiding in the front hallway when the seventh attempt was made. They ran out and fired at the stealers, who were in a tan roadster. Apparently they missed. Anyhow, the thieves got away.

"I am not discouraged," said Mrs. Peterson. "They are not going to leave that wheel. The worst of it is that they are slashing up my car. It's new, but it's beginning to look old. I am keeping my pistol handy, and it's loaded."

COOLIDGE BACK ON GRIND AFTER TRIP TO HAVANA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—President Coolidge returned from his good will pilgrimage to the Pan-American conference at Havana early this morning and plunged into the task of clearing his desk of routine business that accumulated during his absence.

Those close to the President represented him as highly pleased with his reception at Havana and confident that the Pan-American conference would bring about better understanding between the United States and the Latin American republics.

The special return train, bearing the President and Mrs. Coolidge, Secretary of State Kellogg, Secretary of the Navy Willbur, and other members of the party, arrived shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

President Coolidge was greeted at the station by Rafael Rodriguez, chargé d'affaires of the Cuban embassy. Secretary Kellogg confirmed the announcement that Dwight Morrow, American ambassador at Mexico City, would leave the Pan-American sessions at Havana on Monday and return to his post, because of important work.

JUDGE TOLD OF VICE CONDITIONS IN SPECIALVILLE

Hears Rum and Gambling
Rampant in Suburb.

While Chief James L. Devereux of the county highway police cast a watchful eye upon Chicago Heights yesterday, following his ultimatum to officials of that village to "chase out that bootleg ring or I'll chase 'em out for you," conditions indicating that the vice and liquor traffic is rife in another suburb, Specialville, were called to the chief's attention.

Statements as to conditions in Specialville were given before Chief Justice William V. Brothers in the Criminal court by Constable Charles Brown and two other citizens of the suburb during the hearing of Albert Reynolds, colored, on trial for gun toting.

Says Vice Is Rampant.
"Why, judge," burst out Constable Brown, "vice and gambling are rampant out in our town. There's even a gambling joint next door to my home."

Judge Brothers communicated his information to Chief Devereux with the suggestion that the chief "clean up that town within the next twelve hours," if he found conditions as reported.

The murders of three men, shot to death presumably by bootleg feudists, brought about Devereux's ultimatum to Mayor Daniel Bergin and Chief of Police Edward Cassidy of Chicago Heights. The bodies of the murder victims, Harry Fuller, Joseph Faso, and Joe Cagando, were found early Wednesday.

Joseph Gusick Released.
Joseph Gusick, brother of Harry Gusick, convicted pandarer pardoned by Gov. Small, was released after questioning yesterday by Devereux. It had been suspected that Gusick, known intimate of Al Capone, Cicero vice lord, now in Florida, had ordered the executions of the three men.

After thirty-six hours of work, Chief Devereux admitted himself still baffled regarding the identities of the killers, but said he is convinced the men were slain in connection with Chicago Heights bootleg activities.

Detroit police stated that a Harry Fuller, filling the description of the slain Fuller, was arrested in that city in July, 1925, on a charge of assault to kill. The body of Fuller was claimed yesterday by his sister, Miss Margaret Fuller, 213 Hill street, Chicago Heights.

Test Suit on Chicago Hall
Bonds Taken to High Court

A test, suit on the validity of the $15,000,000 Chicago hall bond issue was taken to the Illinois Supreme court yesterday. Circuit Judge Philip L. Sullivan has ruled that the bonds are valid. A decision from the high court may be handed down in the February term, but may not be reached until the April term. In the meantime a citizens' committee headed by William R. Dawes is deliberating on a site and on specifications.

HOTELLING TAKES PLACE IN PRISON CELL AS "LIFER"

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Showing visibly the strain he has been under since the murder of Dorothy Schneider of Mount Morris, Mich., and still bearing a slight mark on his face received when struck Wednesday by the child's father, Adolph Hotelling, 40 year old church deacon, was placed behind the gates of the Marquette branch prison at 420 o'clock Thursday afternoon, a week after his crime, to begin serving the life sentence passed on him by Judge Fred Brennan of the Genesee county Circuit court.

The murderer, taken from one city to another and held in the Iowa reformatory and the Bay City jail to prevent possible mob action, arrived here under heavy guard from Bay City, where he was taken after sentence.

Three to Get Reward.
Owosso, Mich., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—The reward for information that led to the arrest of Adolph Hotelling, slayer of Dorothy Schneider, will be split three ways, according to information said to have been given out today by Sheriff Frank Green of Genesee county.

Harold Lotridge of this city, Archie Bacon, who gave the officers the description of the slayer, and Sheldon Robinson, who gave the first tip to the officers, will get the money, it is said.

PICK GIRL WITH BEST POSTURE AT LINDBLOM HIGH

Miss Geneva Hoff, 17, of 5408 Troy street yesterday was selected as the girl student with the "most graceful carriage" at Lindblom high school, 614 and Lincoln streets, following a contest in which 2,300 girls in the institution took part.

The inauguration of the correct posture contests and contests of grace, say Miss Lillian Klein and Miss Pauline Cullen, gymnasium instructors at Lindblom, mark the going out of style of all affected "slouches" and "walks" among high school girls. The contests are now held semi-annually in the high schools of the city.

MR. STRAWN ON CRIME.

Silas H. Strawn, president of the American Bar association, was one of the speakers at a meeting at which officials and citizens discussed crime and law enforcement. The state's attorney and spokesmen for the police and city administration naturally inclined toward optimism and a belief that enforcement was very good. Crime in consequence was decreasing and was well in hand. Mr. Strawn almost more than agreed with these conclusions.

It was not the best setting for the meeting that at the time the authorities were trying to trace the murderers who took three liquor competitors for a ride and threw their bodies out in the Chicago Heights region or that at the time the superintendent of the St. Charles School for Boys was getting a machine gun to defend the reformatory if a well known band of young Chicago toughs carried out their threat to take the place by assault and release some of their pals, imprisoned criminals who are among the boys.

Mr. Strawn is a sincere man of the best citizenship of Chicago, prominent in national and international affairs. Such organizations as the Better Government association may conclude from his remarks that he had an unrevealed purpose in applauding the work of the police and the state's attorney, possibly one of a political nature. In view of Mr. Strawn's character that is unacceptable. It was his opinion that however great a problem metropolitan crime may be the authorities were tackling it not only earnestly, but successfully.

His own experience, he said, as a person leading the normal life of Chicago, was never to have been held up, robbed or racketed. He believed the reputation of the city should be protected against accusation that things were otherwise. It is, of course, true that the average person in an average day may rely on immunity from violence. If it were otherwise crime would have control of the city and not even the persons who view most with alarm would say that it has.

It may be of no consequence that Mr. Strawn not so long ago was the American representative on an international commission in China studying a rearrangement of the relations of the occidental powers to China. Certainly a comparison of disorders in Canton and Chicago would leave this city spotless. Nevertheless Chicago does not measure up to the standard reasonably expected of American metropolitan civilization. Unquestionably other metropolitan areas also fall. This one is our particular concern and it cannot be granted that either police or court methods as applied could be expected to produce the desired results and it is idle to say that they do.

We have not reached a condition which permits us to congratulate ourselves or bid our officials consider themselves at the turn of the road in a long, hard fight. Such congratulations seem distinctly to obscure the facts, however sincere the attitude may be. If there is an improvement in the enforcement of law we are glad of it. The extent of that improvement is at least dubious and the facts which make it dubious are clamorous.

It is not a time to sit down and take profits. It is a good thing to keep the estimate of Chicago crime in its proper place, in its correct relation to crime through the country, in a true relation to its causes and to the normal life of the city. It might be a good thing for the country, however bad for this city, if Chicago were the exceptional bad city, but the rest of the country cannot acquire merit by condemning us. The others are like Chicago and it will be a bad thing for them eventually if they try to think otherwise. That, however, does not help this town. Its crime is its own business.

A good deal of the injury done is by organized violence, the racketing, beer riots, intimidation of witnesses, gang murders, maiming of workmen and business men, extortion and bombing. In handling such crime a uniformed policeman is ineffective and our detective method consists of taking a policeman out of his uniform and putting him in plain clothes. It does not make him a detective.

If Mr. Strawn wants to answer the reformers who will accuse him of an unrevealed motive for giving the authorities such a hand we suggest that he take the lead of a citizen effort to give the police a real detective department with men qualified to get into the interior of the vicious world and come out with evidence which will convict the criminals and break up the gangs.

It can't be believed that it is impossible to do

THE OLYMPIC GAMES AND WHAT ELSE?

The gentlemen who are laying plans for the Second World's Fair in 1933 have already taken steps to get the Olympic games for July of that year. We can think of no good reason why Chicago shouldn't have the games as an incident of the fair. The committee is talking, as well, of having a championship prize fight here in July and the world's baseball championship in October, no matter which cities happen to win the pennants in their respective leagues. Besides, there is hope of an intercollegiate football match in November.

This is fair enough, as far as it goes, but it is not enough by half. There should be at least three football games; Yale against Harvard for tradition; Army against Navy for thrill, and east against west for football. We do not believe this schedule will accord with the present plan of closing the fair on Nov. 1, accordingly, the exposition must continue through November, one of the most delightful months of which this climate boasts.

With the baseball championship in October and football through November, the late autumn will be well provided with attractions. May remains open. That month can see the intercollegiate regatta for which the new lake front will be the perfect setting, superior in all respects to the course on the Hudson. June and July will have the prize fight and the Olympic games. August is a pleasant month for the rodeo, and, for contrast within the same genus, a series of bull fights. Heaven forbid that we should have bull fighting as practiced in Spain and Mexico, but the other kind, as recently witnessed with delight in Central America by Col. Lindbergh, ought to prove as far as Medicine Hat and the Everglades.

September will serve for the tennis championships, both national and Davis cup. That brings us around to October again.

The high hats of the Olympic games will no doubt raise objections to holding their party in 1933 and in Chicago. That is what high hats are for and why they are so frequently met upon. Ordinarily the Olympic games are held every four years, which would require them to be held in 1932 instead of 1933. One year more or less should make no difference at all. It never has. The games were to have been held in Berlin in 1916 and because of the war were not held at all. The heavens did not fall. In 1906 the Olympic games were held in Athens, only two years after St. Louis and two years before London. Again the stars continued in their courses.

Objections to holding the games in Chicago are, if possible, less weighty. The games have been held in America only once before, back in 1904, in St. Louis, although America is always the principal entrant. Paris has had the show twice and so has Athens. Amsterdam gets it this year, Paris had it in 1924, and Brussels in 1920. Brussels is between Paris and Amsterdam, and from Paris to Amsterdam is about as far as from Chicago to Cincinnati. Since 1904 the games have been presented in a little corner of northwestern Europe, although the contestants come from South Africa, Australia, South America, Asia, this continent, and the farther islands as well. The truth of the matter is that without us outsiders the games would be a frost because the Finns would have no competition.

When our representatives make their bid for 1933 they will be well advised to speak of these matters and to say a word as well about the guarantee. It costs money to move athletes around the globe and money is what we've got. We'll say we've got it.

THE JOHN PAUL JONES STATUE IN ENGLAND.

The Rt. Rev. Frederic Deane, lord bishop of Aberdeen, is in the country with a winning personality and with what seems to be an equally winning project. Inasmuch as the first Episcopal bishop in America was consecrated at Aberdeen by the nonjuring Scotch bishops, the lord bishop presents to the American friends of Aberdeen, Scotland, and all Britain the opportunity to build there a memorial chapel which would have a Lincoln memorial window and be wholly American. His project is favored and if any one can get it unquestionably he can. We think he'll get membership in the America First association.

The English Speaking union has taken kindly to the American chapel which is a reminder that it has indicated its interest in another memorial to an American who came from Scotland, John Paul Jones. It was suggested by THE TRIBUNE that the English Speaking union on both sides of the water put a statue of the commander of the Bon Homme Richard on Flamborough Head, near the scene of his miraculous victory over the gallant Serapis. It would be expressive of such a community of interests as the union serves and it would indicate that in the understanding of the American branch the hyphen in the Anglo-American association was a bond of common union and not a leading chain.

Editorial of the Day

EVOLUTION OF SHIRTS.

(Declarer, H. L. Herald.)

Young bucks may not know this—but their dads remember it well—that all dress shirts used to be starched in front and stiff up behind.

All such shirts once were white, at least until Wednesday evening. Colored or figured shirts, when they came in, were viewed askance by conservatives, the kind of men who said that a crease in the trousers proclaimed the fact that they came from a ready made clothing store.

The modern coat shirt proved a convenience and eventually drove the orthodox stiff back, starched garment off the market.

Now it isn't particularly difficult to close a shirt up with buttons, but dress shirts are fastened with studs, three to four in number. Putting studs into shirts under any conditions is bad enough, but putting them in after the shirt is on is like cutting one's own hair.

Of course, no great evil can last forever. A change was bound to come. If you ask for a full dress shirt now, the haberdasher slams down on the counter just the sort of shirt that grandfather wore on his wedding day, says that it has cuffs attached. It has a hard starched facade and the open back. Studs have been reduced to one. Fashion has made a complete reversal. The shirt that five years ago a man would have been mortified to be seen in, now has the fullest approval of the style arbiters. They cannot under the mischief or repair the grief for which full dress coat shirts have been responsible, but they have, at least, made amends.

How to Keep Well.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be to inquiries, under great limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DIETS FOR THE TWO KINDS OF ACIDOSIS.

THERE are two types of acidosis. Though the two conditions go by the one name they are radically different in symptoms, in cause and in treatment.

The man who finds out that he has acidosis still has a most important hurdle to jump. He must guess which kind he has. If he guesses wrong and stops all bread and cereal by way of cure, he makes himself worse. The fire is worse than the frying pan, and if he jumps with his eyes shut that's about where he is due to land.

Dr. W. D. Sansum says the man who has the acid ash type of acidosis should follow about this diet:

Less bread and cereal; less meat, fowl, fish and eggs; more fruit, vegetables, milk, butter, cornstarch, and sugar and apples. The fruits that are exceptions to the general rule are cranberries, prunes and plums.

In place of ordinary bread Dr. Sansum advises bread made from two parts wheat flour and one part lima bean flour, with enough yeast, raisins and salt to suit. Here is scientific backing for the potato flour so widely used in Ireland and in former times. Flour is made, or can be, from still other basic ash foods.

Dr. Sansum says the wide use of baking soda as a home remedy for indigestion, sour stomach and other minor ills is evidence of the prevalence of this type of acidosis.

If, on the other hand, the acidosis is of the acetone type, the diet must contain plenty of cereals, fruits and sugars. Such diets should include jams, marmalades, jellies, fruit juices, syrups, honey, cookies, plain cakes, breakfast foods with sugar and milk, candy, and candied fruit, as well as bananas.

The articles which should be wholly eliminated or greatly restricted are butter, cream, gravies, fat meats, and fats and fats generally.

Dr. Sansum says: "Adults doing ordinary work seem to thrive on diets containing two parts carbohydrate to one part fat. The fighting ration of the U. S. army during the war was a diet of two parts carbohydrate to one part fat. Children may very well need a similar ratio."

The acidosis which children have so frequently is much more likely to be of the acetone variety. Therefore, children who are prone to attacks of acidosis should eat only a limited amount of butter, oils and greases and should get plenty of cereal, sugar and candy.

DIRT EATING CHILDREN.

Mrs. A. W. L. writes: My baby boy, 17 months old, eats dirt every time he has an opportunity to do so. I have been told that there must be something lacking in his diet which causes him to crave such things. Will you please advise me if this is so. What can I give him, or do?

REPLY.

Dirty eating is a more popular pastime and less harmful than most people imagine. He has learned by the person eating "baby" can be expected to mature into a good citizen.

Give your baby a mixed diet, not too much milk. Vegetable soups, vegetables and fruit juices should have a prominent place in the diet.

As to the children's bureau, U. S. department of labor, or to your state board of health for "Child Care" or for other books on the subject, and follow the diet given there.

FLATS MUST BE WARM.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I am writing you regarding the heating plant of my tenement house, 1111 S. Dearborn, which is in accordance with section 2113 of the city code as amended December, 1924, and continues to do so, although the heat is not sufficient to warm owner, his agent, or the janitor of such infraction of the city code, but to no avail, can the tenant construe this as a violation of the lease entered into and accordingly move without rendering him self liable for rents accruing from the time of his removal until the expiration of the lease?

W. E. N.

Since a tenant might find it difficult to satisfy a court sufficiently to defend an action for rent, we advise first reporting the facts to the commissioner of health in an endeavor to get the commissioner to put proper heating. After that, a definite notice should be given the landlord before taking the case to court.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PAY FOR SICK LEAVE.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I was working for a grocery concern for $5 a week and a shipping clerk. Saturday, Dec. 31, I was sent out to help deliver orders. I caught cold and was off four days and when I reported for work Friday, Jan. 6, I was discharged. Can I collect four days' wages? Can I collect sick benefit?

M. M. I.

The Illinois authorities are not entirely clear as to the effect of such absence on the employer's right to recover wages, but we incline to the opinion that you are entitled to recover if, under all of the circumstances, the absence was such as the employer could have reasonably expected at the time of the employment.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PROBABLY NOT ELIGIBLE.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(Friend of the People.)—I have a friend, a young Argentinian, who has resided ten years in the United States of America and who wishes to become a citizen of this country. There is no record of his entry into this country and he would like to know whether or not he is eligible to be made application for citizenship. How soon can he get his first papers and also final papers of citizenship and how shall he proceed to get them?

If the person referred to in this letter entered the United States illegally without being inspected by the immigration service, he is in a position to apply for naturalization because he will not be able to obtain a record showing the date, place, and manner of his arrival in the United States.

FORECAST

I am come upon a way not thick with roses,
Stumbling upward where stones rattle and fall,
Beast with ominous winds and rocky close,
For a hope that may prove nothing, nothing at all.
Down below are the meadows where the grasses
Run in the wind like waves of a changing sea,
Where I have lain contented when summer passes,
Strewing her flowers in a hidden Arady.

Now is the air grown cold where the night lies darkly
Over the heights I long for, and no light
Falls on the scattering trail where death waits starkly
For the hope I cherish and strive for in this night,
Up where the numb hands loose from the giant wall

To find hope may prove nothing, nothing at all.

Do you suppose they didn't want him along with 'em?

But I am discontent. Not with Chicago, for the police are stupid. Not with the theaters, for Phil Baker, Blanche Yurka, Mary Garden, Marshall, and Ted Healy are good. Not with the food, for the cuisine is excellent. But, oh, God! The water!

A PAGAN CUSTOM

"Let's get crooked tonight."

It was entirely Van's idea. I probably wouldn't have thought of it for five minutes. I became deeply meditative.

"Let's see," I pondered, "today is Wednesday. Isn't it?"

"Yes," said Van. "Today is Wednesday."

"Wednesday," I mused.

So, of course, it being Wednesday, we went out to celebrate the fact. No true pagan lets a Wednesday go by uncelebrated. The same applies to Friday, Tuesday, Thursday, Sunday, Saturday, and, once a week, Monday. It was in a north side cabaret that Van, who loves fireworks, stood up on the table.

"Ho! Ye maidens of Vienna!
Whoops! Ye matrons of Lucerne..."

I don't think he finished it. I don't remember. I asked the clerk nearest if Van finished it. He said he wasn't sure, but he might have; the wagon had had to stop for a drawbridge.

Van says he never finished it. Says he never did know all of it. Although I hesitate to make any positive statement, I am inclined to believe he did leave it incomplete.

The next day was Thursday.

PRACTICAL QUESTIONS FOR PROHIBITION AGENTS

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE COMMON GOOD.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 12.—Prof. Manion's criticism of the editorial reprinted from The Baptist is primarily based upon his misconception of what is meant by the "common good." His interpretation of the phrase as the goodness of the people in general seems almost perverse in view of its well defined meaning as a phrase of art. Any teacher of philosophy or political science could have told him that the phrase means neither more nor less than the "general welfare."

In determining the scope of government, its end and purpose is at best a hazy notion. True, any attempt to use the governmental agency for other than its natural end will prove abortive. But the nature of the mechanism and tools of government and the nature of society upon which that mechanism and those tools perform their functions will determine in the vast majority of cases whether or not a government is operating within its proper sphere. There can be little dispute as to the end of government, but no end of argument as to the efficacy of particular means to attain that end. Prohibition is not unsuccessful because it would not be for the "general welfare" of society to abstain from drinking intoxicants but because laws, which are the tools of government, must be shaped to the needs of society to be effective. Habits cannot be legislated into people, but general habits can be confirmed and made more nearly universal by laws.

If Jefferson meant his statement in the Declaration of Independence as a comprehensive enumeration of the purposes of government, he did not act upon that theory long. If the Louisiana Purchase was within the scope of a government which had power only to "secure certain unalienable rights," then Jefferson used those words in a decidedly Pickwickian sense, to say the least.

While one purpose of government is to protect or secure the rights of the individual in society, no government could last which did not recognize that certain of those rights must be restricted for the "general welfare" or "common good."

CHICAGO RYS. CO. FORECLOSURE SET FOR JUNE

Wilkinson Acts on Case of Transit.

Definite steps for a foreclosure of the properties of the Chicago Railway company, which owns the north and west side street car lines, were taken by Federal Judge James H. Wilkinson yesterday. The court instructed counsel for the various groups of security holders and the company to be prepared to go to trial by next June.

The foreclosure proceedings result from the fact that the Chicago Railway company, on Feb. 1, 1927, defaulted payment of principal and interest on its bonds, which became due with the expiration of the transit franchises.

Negotiations Unimpeded.

The foreclosure proceedings will not interfere with the present negotiations between the transit companies and the city for a new franchise, according to Attorney Horace K. Tenney, who represented the Harris Trust and Savings bank, which in turn represents the first mortgage bondholders. The suit will have the effect of establishing ownership of the properties and clear the way for a reorganization plan or sale to a new company.

"No one now knows definitely what will be the outcome of the traction situation," Mr. Tenney explained. "The traction companies may be consolidated into a new company or they may remain as individual companies with unified operation. The negotiations with the city appear to be dragging.

"In the meanwhile, unless a settlement is reached, the foreclosure of the Chicago Railway company is the logical step for the protection of the bondholders."

Delay Hearing on Interest.

A motion to authorize the receivers to pay interest to the first mortgage bondholders amounting to $1,336,875 due on Feb. 1, was continued to Jan. 24. Attorneys representing junior bondholders and others argued that interest payment should also be made on their securities.

Mr. Tenney stated the cash on hand of the Chicago Railway company on Dec. 31 amounted to $4,496,000. The total interest due to all bond and mortgage holders totals $3,285,000, it is claimed.

Other Lines in Trouble.

Because the Chicago City railway and the Calumet and South Chicago Street railway bonds became in default a year ago and their stocks have paid no dividends since then, the Chicago City and Connecting Railways

Collateral Trust, which holds these stocks, had a deficit last year.

"As no dividends came to the trust, it has not paid interest on its collateral trust notes for 1927," Chairman B. E. Sunny says in his report to the security holders. "Dividends for 1926 amounted to $1,238,514 and ordinarily would have been the same for 1927. On Feb. 1, 1927, dividend payments were stopped, although the respective companies set aside for the benefit of the stockholders the equivalent of such dividends, subject only to the rights of the first mortgage bondholders."

The Collateral Trust received income of only $4,732 last year and its expenses were $1,082,566. On Dec. 31, last, it had a deficit of $381,564, compared with surplus of $714,311 on Dec. 31, 1926.

SCOT STUDENTS GIVE "BIG BULL" THE MERRY RAZZ

Our Mayor Burns English
Books in Glasgow.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
GLASGOW, Scotland, Jan. 19.—Glasgow students staged their much heralded and riotous "rag" of "Big Bull Thompson" today.

A student, impersonating Chicago's mayor, boarded a down river Clyde cattle boat from America. When he stepped briskly ashore he was dressed in typically English fashion of the Hockwicken period.

After a reception by the students at the quayside, Mayor Thompson's buffalo was carried a mile through the city streets, chewing a huge cigar.

Burns English Encyclopedia.
At Glasgow university, "Big Bull" opened his campaign by burning a copy of the English encyclopedia. In his address he complained of the distorted news appearing in the British press regarding Chicago.

"Why," he exclaimed, "only yesterday I read that there was only one murder a day in normal times in Chicago. That is press dope. During the height of the Christmas rush the murder rate rose to the laudable figure of 44.5 a thousand."

"Our electric chair utilizes so much current that we have had to substitute busses for trams in Chicago. The Chicago divorce figures are something to be proud of. Our matrimonial maxim is: 'Early and often,' or, as they say in the stock yards, 'One good wife deserves another.'"

"Arrested" as an Alien.
"Big Bull" then proceeded to the city chambers, where he was received by leading councilors and Arthur Henderson, labor member of parliament, who, although English, was cordially greeted by "Big Bull."

Police took the "mayor" in charge and insisted on registering him as an alien, after which he was mounted in a state carriage, represented by a huge water barrel spouting water front and rear, to drive off English attacks.

Throughout the afternoon "Big Bull" paraded through the streets. Tonight he attended a cabaret, and the "rag" was continued into the early morning hours at a student's dance.

AFTER 4 WEEKS
JURY IS SWORN FOR HILL TRIAL

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 19.—[Special.]—After almost four weeks of tiresome preliminaries, a jury to try Harry Hill for the murder of his mother, Mrs. Elias A. Hill, was sworn in this afternoon.

When the final panel of four men was accepted only eight veniremen—the 300 men who had been summoned for jury service remained.

Six farmers, two coal miners, a merchant, a carpenter, a factory worker and a concrete contractor composed the group who will decide whether Harry Hill murdered his mother, whose body was found buried in the basement of her Streator home, or whether he is innocent of the charge.

Opening statements in the trial will be made as soon as court opens tomorrow. Russell O. Hanson, the state's attorney, will outline the case for the state and A. H. Shay for the defense.

JURY TRIAL DENIED OVER RUTH SNYDER INSURANCE BATTLE

New York, Jan. 19.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice Glennon today denied a motion for a jury trial of the Prudential Insurance company's suit against Mrs. Josephine Brown and Lorraine Snyder, the daughter of Ruth Snyder, to cancel policies for $97,000, payable, since the execution of Mrs. Snyder at Sing Sing last Thursday night.

The insurance company is seeking to stop payment on the ground of fraud, the policies having been taken out by Mrs. Snyder on the life of her husband, Albert, for whose murder she and Judd Gray were electrocuted. Motion for a jury trial had been made by Anthony Hookstra, a lawyer associated with Edgar F. Hazelton, who was Mrs. Snyder's defense counsel.

Hookstra contended there were certain issues of fact that might be better passed upon by a jury than a judge. But for the insurance company, Alfred M. Bailey asserted that the case was one in equity and that there were no facts at issue.

Mrs. Snyder originally was a party to the suit. Her daughter, Lorraine, and her mother, Mrs. Brown, who has been appointed the child's guardian, are now the defendants.

ROB STORE OF CASH, NARCOTICS.

Two routes, one carrying a gun, late last night forced Morris Indel, proprietor of a drug store at 1781 Clybourn avenue, and Stephen Schwartz and Louis Dauber, his clerks, to line up against the wall while they took $200 from the cash register and a quantity of narcotics from the shelves.

TELLS OF TAKING SEIZED ALKY TO FORT SHERIDAN

Singer asked: "Was it a liquid that spilled?"

Moore replied: "Yes, it looked like water, smelled like alcohol."

On or about Sept. 17 last the witness said Capt. Bass asked him if he wanted to work on Saturday afternoon, and told him to make a trip from warehouse C, same elevator, to the Broadway armory of the 262nd Coast Artillery, the anti-aircraft battery of the Illinois National Guard.

Two truckloads containing 8 or 10 drums each were taken out, Moore added, and Maj. Singer's questions continued:

Q—Did you deliver this? A—Yes, we waited for the man in charge of the armory and said "we have some stuff from Capt. Bass for you," and he said "all right."

Q—What became of the stuff? A—It was loaded on another truck.

Q—Did you receive a tip? A—Yes, $10 from the driver of the other truck.

Q—Did you see Capt. Davis there or any one else? A—Not that I remember.

Secrecy Charges Are Attacked.

On cross-examination by counsel for

Capt. Bass Moore was led over details indicating there was no secrecy. Q—Didn't Capt. Bass say to you that he wanted you to take the alcohol away? A—No, he didn't say what it was.

Q—After the trucks were loaded were they not kept standing in the parking space in full view of office windows? A—Yes, the signal corps office.

Q—Was Capt. Sweeney at the armory?

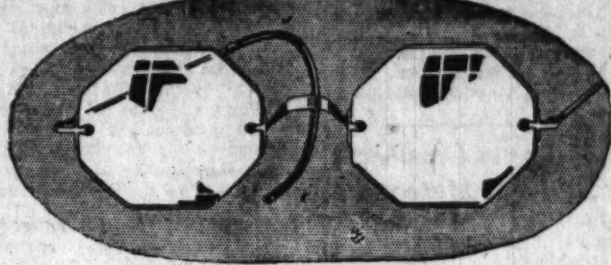

A—I don't know.

Q—Have you had Capt. Davis pointed out to you? A—No.

Q—Don't you remember you said in previous testimony that Capt. Bass said you would meet Capt. Davis at 2:30 o'clock? A—I might have.

Q—Do you know the United States marshal has a warehouse in Building C? A—No.

The trial will be resumed at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

How to Have Soft,
Pretty White Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful, white, soft, pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Boracettine into the hands occasionally, preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be awfully astonished at the pleasant transformation that

MAN WHO TAMED EX-KAISER MADE CHIEF OF ARMY

Hindenburg Names Old Friend for Post.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—(Gen. Wilhelm Hindenburg, the man who helped Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg bring the German army from the war front, despite the raging revolution, has been appointed Germany's new war minister.

President von Hindenburg spent a week objecting to the various candidates offered as a successor to former Minister Otto Gessler, but finally succeeded in forcing the appointment of his old friend, Gen. Groener.

The politicians mostly are making war faces, though they do not dare openly out of deference to the aged president. The newspapers gleefully remark that as an "old officer" he will know how to make the men and give up the intrigues within the reichswehr.

Has Distinguished Record.

Gen. Groener has a distinguished record as a soldier. He was appointed general at the record age of 49 and during the war was appointed to carry out the "Hindenburg economic program" to save food and ammunition.

Later he organized army railway transports. When the smash came and Gen. von Hindenburg lost his nerve, Gen. Groener succeeded him, cooperating with Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

When the former kaiser wanted to lead the army against the revolting country and bomb Berlin into submission, Gen. Groener told him bluntly not to talk nonsense.

Had Kaiser Glorious Way to Die.

"If you want to die, don't lead the troops against their own people," he said, "but go to the front and find glorious death by an enemy bullet."

For this the former kaiser's friends never have forgiven him. Though he frankly admitted his background has been monarchistic, Gen. Groener took charge of the railways and traffic ministry from 1920 to 1922, and today the Socialists leader, Herr Scheidemann, as well as the public, greet his appointment as that of a strong man who knows his own mind and is not influenced by politicians, intrigues, and ax grinders.

$10,000 IS OFFERED TO FIND COLLEGE GIRL, MISSING FOR A WEEK

Northampton, Mass., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—New impetus was added today to the search for 18 year old Frances St. John Smith, missing since Friday night, by the action of her wealthy father, St. John Smith of New York, in increasing the reward for information as to her whereabouts from $1,000 to $10,000.

The announcement of the new reward stipulates that it will not be collected unless the girl is found alive.

Mrs. Smith today wrote this open letter to her daughter:

"Please come to father and me or send word to us here at the Hotel Northampton or, if it is nearer, to Miss Hamilton and Nannan at 129.

"We long so for the happiness of having you back, and we need you and miss you so. Dearest love,

Walter Hollister, a Leominster, Mass., florist, reported that a girl answering to the description of Miss Smith slept last night in one of his greenhouses. He saw her at about 9 this morning, leaving the greenhouse with a blue and white blanket under one arm.

When Skinny Men Grow Manly

Five or 10 Pounds of Flesh
On Their Bones Makes a Lot of Difference

Out in the country they used to say "Just as thin as a fence rail"—and after Jim had somehow managed to grow more manly and add more weight they used to say, "Jim's a real good looking fellow since he took on flesh."

And that's the way it goes all over the world; the skinny, gaunt man can never be attractive or look manly until he puts more flesh on his scantily covered bones.

Many thin men have gained in weight and at the same time in vigor and attractiveness—no thin man can do it unless he tries.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at

U. S. DIPLOMAT URGES LESS SOFT SOAP FOR FRANCE

Raps Yanks in Paris Who Promise Debt Cuts.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Jan. 19.—On the eve of Ambassador Myron T. Herrick's return tomorrow to France, Sheldon Whitehouse, chargé d'affaires at the American embassy, who is leaving for a two months' vacation in the United States, sprang a sensation. He raised his voice today at a luncheon at the American club against the "soft soap" in Franco-American dealings.

With a candor that set some of the Washington-Lafayette boys, of whom the club largely is composed, a-tremble, the man who has done much of the work of the embassy in Paris for years, sounded a note new in such affairs.

"I don't believe it helps Franco-American relations to use too much soft soap," he said, "to disguise the real facts, for the awakening is bound to come, and the sweeter the slumber the greater the irritation on awakening."

Also Raps Debt Cancellors.
At the moment when the negotiations between Paris and Washington for an Utopian peace pact appear to have skidded to death on soft soap, the remarks of the man who is recognized as one of the state department's leading career men, were taken in many quarters here to be charged with significance.

While the club members still were gasping Mr. Whitehouse turned his fire directly on a certain enterprising class of Americans abroad who always

BRITISH EDITOR SEES WAR WITH AMERICA, DUE TO 'IGNORANCE'

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—"The possibility of an American-British conflict is quite grave, due to ignorance on both sides," Wickham Steed, former editor of the London Times, who has just returned from America, said today in an address to American correspondents. Mr. Steed said he is convinced more than ever that the people of the United States support the idea of dealing firmly with an aggressor nation.

are encephalizing the debt and continually pestering the ghosts of Washington and Lafayette.

"We all are entitled to our opinions," Mr. Whitehouse said. "Many of us at times are not in sympathy with the majority opinion at home, with projected international agreements, or even constitutional amendments, but it is just as well if we suspect ourselves of representing the minority, to say so when we give opinions. Then there can be no misunderstanding and the foreigner obtains a clearer idea of our home situation. I have avoided dotting the 'i's and crossing the 't's, but you all readily grasp the kind of questions to which I am referring."

Sees Europe Drawn Together.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The Franco-American exchange of notes on the outlawry of war has brought Europe one stage nearer solidarity, tomorrow's Völkische Zeitung argues. It warns the Germans not to rub their hands gleefully at the French diplomatic defeats, for bigger issues are at stake, stating: "Whether we will it or not, we European nations today sit in the same boat to sink or swim together."

It adds that the clear lesson from the negotiations between Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg and Aristide Briand, the French foreign minister, is that the American policy tends even more to force a defensive consolidation by European nations abroad who always

COUSINS LAUNCH COUNTER ATTACK IN ESTATE FIGHT

Claim Ex-Convict's Story
Is an Invention.

The eight second cousins of the late Edward B. Jennings, multimillionaire, showed their hand yesterday before Probate Judge Henry Horner in their fight to prevent Edward K. Koester, professed son of Jennings, from obtaining the $3,000,000 estate.

The cousins, through their attorney, John B. Campbell, indicated they will contend that Koester invented the story of his paternity while serving the sentence for forgery in the Michigan penitentiary in 1926.

Quis Alleged Wife's Cousin.
This first intimation of the claim of the cousins, who hope to share the estate, was brought out during the cross-examination of Mrs. Mamie Maas, 3517 Addison street, a cousin of the late Augusta Johanna Duwel of Wynnton, Mich., who was Jennings' secret wife according to Koester's story.

Attorney Campbell read from letters dated May 1, May 15, May 31, and July 14, 1926, which referred to relatives by a different relationship than Koester now claims. In the letters he mentioned the late Mrs. Sophia Koester, who reared him, as his mother, the relation that Jennings' cousins contend is the true one.

Tells His Story in Letter.
Then in a letter dated Oct. 31, 1926, Koester told Mrs. Maas the story that is now being produced in testimony in his hopes of acquiring the $3,000,000. The letter said:

"Do you recall a mention made of a man who used to come to see me and who people thought was a Mormon priest? Well, here is the facts: There was a baby boy who died at birth and it is evident that I was substituted. I was born to Augusta Duwel when she was 14 years old and she died at birth and Mr. Jennings was my real father."

Attorney William Scott Stewart, counsel for Koester, apparently unimpressed by the cousins' counter attack, announced that he had fourteen more witnesses who would testify in behalf of his client. The first of these is Charles Koester, who was reared as a brother of Edward. He will take the stand this morning.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 19.—Dr. Herman Chang-lu, Chinese graduate of the University of Chicago, today was elected president of the Shanghai college, an important American missionary school conducted under the auspices of the Baptist mission. Dr. Liu, now president of the college, is a native of Dr. J. J. White of Kansas City.

LABOR CALLS ITS FORCES FOR FIGHT ON INJUNCTIONS

Tremendous Lobby to Spur Congress.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 19.—(AP)—A conference of all international labor unions to further organized labor's campaign for legislation to prohibit the use of injunctions as strike breaking measures was called today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to meet in Washington on Feb. 7.

On the hope of obtaining favorable action at the present session of congress, the conference, which was authorized by the federation at its last convention, in Los Angeles, will meet simultaneously with congressional committee hearings on bills dealing with the subject already introduced.

Back Shipment Bill.
The date for the conference was set by the council in annual meeting here upon receipt of advice from Senator Norris, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, that his committee would begin the hearings on Feb. 8. Of those anti-injunction measures so far presented in congress, the Shipment bill is said to come the nearest to meeting the approval of labor, and indications were that it, for the present at least, would be the focal point of its activities.

All Unions to Send Delegates.
All affiliated organizations will be represented at the conference, which will amount virtually to an extra convention of the federation, according to its president, William Green. An invitation from the National Union of Pharmacy Workers in Cuba to hold a meeting in Havana this year was declined today by the executive council because of its "heavy legislative program."

BAIT HEARING TODAY FOR PAIR HELD IN MURDER

Marion Kirk and her husband, James Kirk, held for the murder of Marion's best girl friend, Betty Chambers, are basing their hope for bail upon a hearing to be granted them today by Judge Frank Comerford in the Criminal court, their counsel, Harry J. Meyers, announced last night.

Judge Comerford yesterday dismissed a habeas corpus action brought in an attempt to free the pair on the ground that he had no jurisdiction. Attorney Meyers contended that the police used false pretense in retaining the pair on the strength of finger prints upon tape used by the strangled of Betty. He said later investigation had exploded the finger print claim.

Meanwhile Assistant Prosecutors George S. Lavin and Samuel A. Hoffman continued, with the aid of police, their fruitless search for J. Gordon Chambers, husband of the slain girl.

LOUIS A. RANG ESTATE VALUED AT $1,300,000

Board of Trade Member
Wills All to Wife.

The late Louis A. Rang, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade for nineteen years, left an estate estimated at $1,328,886. It was disclosed in an inventory filed yesterday before Leon Edelman, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. The broker, who died Sept. 2 at the age of 47, bequeathed his entire estate to his second wife, Mrs. Eugenia Rang, 999 Lake Shore drive.

The inventory classifies all the securities in the estate as good investments with the lone exception of 3,791 shares of the capital stock of the Da-housie Oil Company of Canada, which is described as "desperate."

Stocks listed in the estate and their market values, as listed on the day of Mr. Rang's death, are as follows:

300 Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, $57,550.
300 Illinois Central Railroad company, $26,575.
500 National Biscuit company, $70,750.
500 Bismarck Trust company, $7,000.

"If there are ruffians over 17 years of age at the St. Charles School for Boys, officials of that school have only themselves to blame," said Judge Francis Allegretti in the Boys' court yesterday.

He flatly denied the accusation of Maj. William J. Butler, new temporary head of the school, that Chicago judges were defeating the object of the institution by sending toughs and older criminals to St. Charles.

"Any boy between the ages of 17 and 21 who commits a crime is sent to my court, and I never send any one to St. Charles. I couldn't. Only the juvenile court, handling cases of youths between the ages of 12 and 17, can send any one to the school. If there are any boys over 17 or girls over 14 in the institution it is either because they have run away and been returned or have been paroled and caught in a crime or misdemeanor. In either case the school heads hadn't accepted the youths unless they were to."

Judge Victor Arnold, who for eleven years was on the bench at the Juvenile court, agreed with Judge Allegretti. "No boys over 17 or girls over 14 are sent to St. Charles," he said. "About 52 per cent of 146 some 850 boys there now were sent there by me, but I never sent any one over 17."

W-G-N
RADIO
PROGRAM416.4 Meters—720 Kilocycles
The Chicago Tribune Station on the Drake Hotel

Friday, January 20th

GOOD music pervades the air tonight when W-G-N brings two favorite radio features from the east. The mellow splendor of an Algerian evening comes and melts away again as Whittall's Anglo-Persians sound the fanfare of flutes heralding the sinister "Queen of Sheba" procession. Then, later, "Olive Palmer" sings the exquisite "Hymn to the Sun" from "Coq d'Or." Another highlight in the Palmolive hour is the famous tenor whose stage name is Paul Oliver. A quartet and specialty orchestras contribute their selections also to this potpourri of music.

"Some Operatic Bird," Elmer's View of "Bat"

He Scrambles Science to Laud Strauss' Work.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Johann Strauss' "The Bat" is some conglomerate operatic bird, judging subjectively from this radio listener's vantage point. At least that was the impression gained of the second act of it as produced by the Chicago Civic Opera company, Auditorium theater, through W-G-N, KTW, WMAQ, WENR, and WEBS, 8 to 9 p. m. It was a strangely interesting intermingling of English dialogue spoken with foreign accents, of light opera music sung by grand opera voices.

It seemed a blend of light chatter and laughter in juxtaposition with grand opera solo and choral climaxes, unexpected developments following one another.

At one instant one would be laughing in amazement at such a jocular remark as "My wife is as old as the pyramids and as ugly as the sphinx," at another moment admiring Rosa Talma's easily distinguishable voice soaring with marvelous agility through a tremendously difficult aria; and, later, startled by hearing the pronunciation, "Now we will dance to the strains of the 'Blue Danube Waltz'." Spontaneous applause from the audience cropped out at several points in that act.

As is to be expected, opera in English is easier to understand, but that does not seem to add dignity, but "The Bat" was a wide-awake, live wire performance.

There was some solid first class entertainment elsewhere last evening. Mieczyslaw Muna, Polish pianist, was a star on the New York program through KTW, 7:30 to 8 p. m. Richard Crooks, tenor, was the attraction on the New York KTW 8 to 9 p. m. hour, also during which Haydn's "Toy Symphony" was played by the orchestra.

Sam H. Henry, at W-G-N, 10:10, was having the time of their lives, that is, Sam is. Sam and Liza are presumed to be preparing for the halter, and altar, and the music from the loud-speakers sounds Mendelssohn's good.

After the busy, lively programs of last evening, I must have been one among many who tuned in W-G-N's merry thinking, "Music Box" at 10:20, and thought, "That's solid comfort."

E. L. RYERSON FUNERAL RITES WILL BE TODAY

Private funeral services for Edward Larned Ryerson, chairman of the board of the Joseph T. Ryerson & Son Steel company, will be held at the Ryerson home, 38 Banks street, this afternoon. Mr. Ryerson died early yesterday at his home. He was 73 years old. The Rev. Duncan Browne of St. James Episcopal church and Bishop Charles P. Anderson will have charge of the services.

John W. Dwight, Former Power in House, Is Dead

New York, Jan. 19.—(Special.)—John William Dwight, 69, former Republican whip of the house of representatives, died today in the Hotel Biltmore.

Mr. Dwight, who was the chief aid of "Uncle Joe" Cannon when the veteran politician was speaker, retired from politics in 1913 at the conclusion of his third term, and since that time has been president of the Virginia Blue Ridge railway.

JOHN H. BATTEN IS DEAD; VETERAN CHICAGO LAWYER

John Henry Batten, veteran Chicago attorney, died last evening at the Hyde Park hotel, where he had made his home for several years. He was 77 years old and had been ill for a long period.

Mr. Batten was a native of London, but had lived in Illinois and Wisconsin since he was 4 years old. He was state's attorney of Du Page county from 1888 to 1896 and county judge there from 1897 to 1902.

For two years he was assistant to Judge Carter of the Cook county Probate court. In 1910 and 1911 he was president of the Hamilton club.

A daughter, Mrs. Albert H. Wetten, and two sons, Percy H. and Ralph E. Batten, survive him. Funeral services will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, 60th street and Dorchester avenue, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

KNIFE WOUNDS PROVE FATAL.

Charles Morgan, 44, of 305 East 14th street, Chicago Heights, died in the County hospital yesterday of knife wounds he inflicted on himself on Jan. 7.

Attorney Henry Wallace, Veteran of Two Wars, Dies

Attorney Henry L. Wallace, a veteran of the Spanish-American and world wars, died yesterday at the Northwestern-American hospital following an operation. He had been ill for several months. Mr. Wallace was 57 years old and lived at 6818 Merrill avenue. For many years he had been connected with the Chicago Title and Trust company's legal department. During the Spanish war he served with the First Illinois regiment. In 1917 he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, was commissioned a captain and served in the 131st infantry. His widow, his mother, a daughter, and two sons survive. Funeral services will be held at Bethany Union church at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

T. A. Jones, Manufacturer, Taken by Death at 64

Thomas Arthur Jones, for more than thirty-five years a manufacturer in Chicago, died yesterday at his home, 465 Monroe avenue, River Forest. He was 64 years old. Mr. Jones came to Chicago in 1892. He was at the head of several foundry and manufacturing concerns. He was a Mason and a member of the Machinery club, the Oak Park club, the Riverside country club, and the Chicago Athletic association. Funeral services will be held in the residence at 2 p. m. today. Burial will be at Laporte, Ind. Mr. Jones is survived by his widow and four sons.

Lawrence Cuneo Funeral Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Lawrence Cuneo, pioneer Chicago commission merchant, will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow morning from the home at 2524 Sheridan road to the Church of the Assumption, 313 West Illinois street. Burial will be at Calvary cemetery. Mr. Cuneo died Wednesday night, at the age of 73.

THE STERILIZED BATHROOM PAPER

Northern Tissue

NORTHERN PAPER MILLS GREEN BAY - WISCONSIN

Now! a Bathroom Paper as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton

Snow-white! Downy soft! Doubly absorbent! 20 times sterilized! ... Costs no more than ordinary toilet paper

Now, at no additional cost, you can use a sterilized Bathroom Paper which doctors recommend. For Northern Tissue is sterilized 20 times in the making. It is actually as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton. And with this sterile quality it is soft, white and doubly absorbent. Yet its price is no more than ordinary toilet paper.

A new safeguard to health

Modern medical science has traced many ills to careless hygienic methods of our everyday life. Seemingly trivial things that often endanger health.

This is why physicians and surgeons everywhere recommend this sterilized Bathroom Paper. Why it is used in hospitals throughout the United States—to safeguard health.

Every roll as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton

Northern Tissue is sterilized 20 times in manufacture. By our own process. Thus every roll comes to you clean, and sterile. A laboratory test conducted by the nationally-known Columbus Laboratories, proved Northern Tissue to be as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton.

Doctors advise

Now you do not have to use yellow toilet paper (most of which contains 50% ground wood), to which many doctors attribute rectal troubles, such as Prolapsus Ani.

Note the difference between yellow, ground-wood paper and Northern Tissue, as revealed by microscope in the drawings at left.

Start using Northern Tissue today. Note its snow-white color; its fine, firm texture; its soothing, down-like softness and absorbency. And remember—every sheet is sterilized 20 times. The price is no more than you pay for ordinary toilet paper.

DELANEY SIGNS TO BOX HEENEY MARCH 1 IN N. Y.

Rickard En Route South to Visit Tunney.

New York, Jan. 19.—(Special.)—While Promoter Tex Rickard was speeding on his way to Florida to confer with Gene Tunney about a title bout in June, ostensibly having abandoned his elimination series to pick the logical challenger, negotiations were concluded today for a bout between Tom Heenev, New Zealand contender, and Jack Delaney, former light heavyweight champion who fought that division for further glory among the heavyweights. The Heenev-Delaney bout has tentatively been set for March 1 at Madison Square Garden and the distance will be fifteen rounds, the regular championship route.

Although Rickard announced his eliminations were concluded and that there was every prospect that he would pit Jack Sharkey against Gene Tunney in June, the match made today has all of the earmarks of an elimination event if there were an elimination.

ELIMINATORS ELIMINATED?

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, Jan. 19.—The heavyweight elimination tournament has been such a complete success that the entire group of heavyweight prize fighters who wish to be selected for one or the other of Gene Tunney's bouts next summer have now been eliminated. This is carrying things to extremes, and the situation is complicated by the fact that all of the boys have been eliminated not once, but twice.

Last year, when Mr. Rickard was conducting his eliminations, he established the principle that a prize fighter who was eliminated once might come back for another elimination, but even a man of Mr. Rickard's vast faith in the credulity of the customers realized that they cannot go along being eliminated again and again. In fact, from a great advocate of the elimination system with its steady revenue of incidental gate receipts, Mr. Rickard now has been converted into an opponent of the elimination idea.

Similarly, he now regrets that he permitted Jack Sharkey to fight Tom Heenev last week, as he realizes that, far from assisting one of the other boys, this bout only gave them an opportunity to eliminate themselves.

Managers Begin to Yelp.
This is causing a great deal of confusion and guessing here. The managers of the eliminated prize fighters are congregating around Madison Square Garden in noisy groups to explain that their respective man-eaters are being eliminated. Some of the eliminated prize fighters were suffering from dislocation of the optum joint which is a trade expression covering all the familiar injuries discovered in prize fighters after they have been eliminated.

Last year there were about a dozen man-eaters in the elimination group, some of whom had the courtesy to say eliminated. Harry Pearson, the illustrated Scandinavian, having amassed enough money to keep him supplied with snuff, embalmed herring, and other luxuries to his taste, retired and went home. Mr. Monte Munn withdrew to the smaller fight clubs, convinced of his elimination. Knute Hanson took himself off, returning only long enough to provide the impetus for Mr. Phil Scott, the British heavyweight champion, in Mr. Scott's astonishing diving exhibition early in the present season. And Jimmy Maloney, who was the bright star of the 1927 eliminations, retired to Boston, although he was no more thoroughly eliminated than some of those who are lingering on just now.

The present group consists of Dempsey, Sharkey, Heenev, Jack Delaney, Johnny Risko, and Paulino.
Dempsey Put Out Twice.
Dempsey has been eliminated twice, both times by Mr. Tunney and even Mr. Rickard is beginning to modify his ideas as to the amount of enthusiasm he could arouse among the customers with a third showing of the spectacle. Dempsey hit Tunney only twice in 20 rounds and there is no reason to suppose that the thoughtful Mr. Tunney would expose his nude chin to Dempsey's left hook again. Tunney hit Dempsey 500 times and dropped him only once for less than one second so neither is there any reason to look for a spectacular finish of Dempsey's career.

Sharkey was eliminated once by

MOON MULLINS—MR. HOWL'S FINAL GREETINGS

SMITTY—THE KID HAS A BONE TO PICK WITH HIS DOG

Dempsey and lately by himself in his match with Heenev.

Heenev dropped one decision to Paulino and he also eliminated himself in the Sharkey fight.

Delaney was eliminated by Maloney and Johnny Risko.

Paulino was eliminated by Delaney, although the decision of foul in this affair was most peculiar and the referee who made the decision has not been seen in the ring since then. He also was eliminated by Heenev in a return bout and moreover he is just a poor prize fighter as Mr. Rickard and all others concerned realize. This leaves Risko, who once knocked Tunney down, but who has been eliminated by this fellow and that one several times in the last few seasons.

And this leaves nothing but uncertainty and a most questionable business outlook for a champion who desires to be fought twice in one season with $2,000,000 worth of trade on hand each time.

Maybe a Plane Would Aid Bob in Duck Hunt

BY BOB BECKER.

Shooting mallard ducks in the flooded timber country of the lower Illinois river sometimes requires a ladder or a good tree climber, judging by the experiences of two hunters whom we encountered last week-end during a closing day shoot near Sikeston.

The tree climbing complication comes into the shooting game down there because an occasional bird when hit will go zooming down through the trees and lodge in the branches. And there it will hang until dislodged by a climb or a shot.

Last week-end one of the pushers on W. R. James' shooting grounds near Crane lake told us about one of these "tree ducks." Inasmuch as we were shooting over an open hole in the timber, we had no opportunity to try out this stunt of dropping a mallard in a tree top. But the pusher had such an experience a few days ago. He took a crack at a low flying mallard while hunting a crippled bird in a pecan grove. The shot was made in a small opening in the grove, but the falling bird sailed down and landed among the trees. The bird is still up there. As it was near dusk the pusher had no time to do any fancy climbing stuff over the tree.

Another hunter down there had an even more amusing experience with a shot in the trees. This chap swung on two birds, saw the first start down apparently dead, and then swung on the second. When he went over to pick up the first mallard, much to his amazement he couldn't find it on the ice. Later one of the guides saw the bird hanging in a pecan tree.

Mrs. Letts Wins Match in Bahamas Golf Tourney

NASSAU, Bahamas, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Women on whose heads have rested various golf crowns survived the quarter finals of the women's championship golf tournament of the Bahamas today.

Miss Marie Jenny of New York, 1925 metropolitan champion, defeated Miss Rosamond Sherwood of New York, 2 up; Mrs. F. C. Letts Jr. of Chicago, former western champion, defeated Mrs. John P. Renwick of Mount Kisco, N. Y., 3 and 2; Miss Ada MacKenzie of Toronto, twice Canadian champion, won, 6 and 5, from Mrs. Dorothy Higbie Tracy of Chicago.

Maroons Pin Track Hopes on Grid Men

Indiana's track squad, which has become formidable in the last few years under Coach E. C. Hayes, will be a difficult rival for the Maroons tomorrow night when the two teams open their indoor competition in Bartlett gymnasium. Chicago has won from the Hoosiers in the past two years, but prospects for a victory tomorrow are dubious.

One of the best events will be the 440, in which Schulz, the best Maroon entry, will face Stephenson and Abramson, two of the members of this championship relay team. Stephenson is the more dangerous of the two. In the mile run, Capt. Dick Williams of the Maroons, indoor conference 800 yard champion, faces stiff competition from Fields, who took third in the conference cross country meet. Williams won the race from Fields last season. Fields will repeat in the two mile, against John Jackson, captain of the Chicago cross country team this autumn.

The Maroons are counting on winning first and second in the shot, with "Buck" Weaver and Vin Libby, a pair of football men. Weaver has been getting a little more distance in practice than Libby, and should be good for an effort of over 45 feet. Another event in which the Maroons are the favorites is the high jump.

Steel 117.75 116.50 117.41-43
Steel 117.75 116.50 117.41-43
Steel 117.75 116.50 117.41-43

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Heavy buying of United States Steel common stock by the corporation had raised the price of this important product injected into today's market after a long period of comparative dullness. The stock sales had exceeded 1,467,000 shares, being the smallest of any full day since July 1 last.

Approximately one-tenth of the business was done in steel and General Motors. Speculators for the advance were placed at the return of Steel and General Motors to market leadership as the recent sluggishness of these stocks was held responsible for the inability of the market to attract a following in other issues.

Steel Up 1/2 Points.
United States Steel closed 3 1/2 points higher, at 117.41. Predictions of record-making first quarter earnings for General Motors also began to bear fruit, the stock closing at 1 1/2 points higher, at 125.

Despite Senator Walsh's effort to bring out a secret investigation of public utility companies, power and light stocks developed several points of strength. Indiana Power was run up 5 points, to 117.75, closing near the top, and Abilene Electric Power and Light, Federal Light and Power, and Philadelphia common stock gained 1/2 to 3 points. Adams Express jumped 1/2 point to 25.

FRENCH ISSUES HOLD INTEREST IN BOND TRADE

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Buying of French bonds in reflection of the lowering of the Paris discount rate to 2 1/2 per cent, the second cut in three weeks or so, was the feature of today's dull bond market.

Italian Public Utility Credit 7 1/2, which started upward yesterday, simultaneously with the announcement of a projected American company to hold securities of public utilities in Italy, made a further advance today, selling at the highest price yet this year. This issue, however, along with some of the French obligations, lost part of the gain on profit taking.

NEW YORK FINDS SELF SLIPPING AS COTTON CENTER

BY HARPER LEECH.

More than usual interest attaches to the vote to be taken on Feb. 6 by the New York Cotton exchange on the question of changing the delivery point of its trading contracts from New York to the southern ports of Norfolk, New Orleans and Galveston.

Some observers suspect that the rapid growth of the Chicago Board of Trade as a cotton trading center is partly responsible for the question being raised on the New York exchange. The Chicago board has been the first fixed Galveston-Houston as the delivery point in its trading. Recently the New Orleans exchange has included Galveston-Houston, with its own port as a delivery point.

Back of these movements of the speculative markets is a great agricultural and traffic change. Formerly the old south, the eastern cotton belt, grew most of the cotton, and New England spun most of it. It moved north via New York which was a logical concentration point for later distribution to the spinners.

Now the eastern belt cotton goes largely to the southern mills in proximity to the fields, while the extension of cotton culture in Texas, especially in the Panhandle, of late years and the increasing importance of Oklahoma and other western crops has made Houston-Galveston the two ports joined by the Houston ship channel, the great export point. Over half of cotton exports are now from the western cotton belt.

This has left New York out in the cold. It is no longer in fact a great cotton market, no longer a great exporting port for cotton, so that its exchange finds itself a speculative market, instead of the one which has been its life.

New York has to date had the money, and therefore the securities market, but the actual "delivery points" of the cash for the securities have been moving from the charmed precincts at a lively clip in recent years—and in time the exchange mechanism will reflect that.

RAW SILK MARKET.
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Silk—Raw, unchanged.

In this day of swift communications a speculative exchange doesn't have to

Shrewd and Thrifty POOR RICHARD was a firm believer in advertising

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Printed in Paris in 1779 for Franklin's friend, Count St. Marys. Presented to the University of Pennsylvania in 1857 by Lieutenant Joseph Beale, U. S. N.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, whose birthday we celebrate this week, was a profound believer in advertising, and if you will glance at the list of his outstanding achievements recorded in the chronology on this page, you will see that he accomplished many things.

In his auto-biography he frequently mentions his use of advertising to inform the public of what he had to "sell," and how he was able to create public opinion in favor of his public projects and to sell the products of his business.

His earlier achievements had to be worked out with the aid of pamphlets, but as he progressed, his intelligence at once recognized that through a widely circulated daily newspaper he could at low cost reach a given number of subscribers with his announcements, and, following this example, it was not long before the business men of that day regularly advertised in his daily newspaper and became the forerunners of our enterprising merchants and manufacturers of today who constantly use newspaper advertising to sell their goods.

In Philadelphia, Benjamin Franklin's city, there is published a daily newspaper that nearly fulfills Franklin's idea of a good newspaper; a newspaper that goes into nearly every home; a newspaper that enjoys the trust of its readers and which abundantly serves the needs of the advertiser—and that paper is THE EVENING BULLETIN.

AS POOR RICHARD SAYS:

- "Drive thy business, let not thy business drive thee"
- "God helps them who help themselves"
- "The sleeping fox catches no poultry"
- "Sloth makes all things difficult"
- "Then plough deep while sluggards sleep"
- "Constant dropping wears away stones"
- "The diligent spinner has a large shift"
- "Get what you can, and what you get hold"
- "God gives all things to industry"
- "A word to the wise is enough"

More than half a million copies of The Bulletin are sold each day; it is possible for enterprising business men to put Poor Richard's advice into effect and to develop their businesses by constant advertising in the Bulletin.

The Evening Bulletin's circulation is one of the largest in the United States. Its advertising rate is one of the lowest per line per thousand copies. Compare the rate with the circulation and analyze how the circulation is obtained before you buy advertising space.

Philadelphia's Retail Trading Area Now Consists of About 600,000 Homes

549,148 Copies of The Evening Bulletin Are Sold Every Day

The Evening Bulletin is sold on its merits as a newspaper; no prize, premium, coupon, guessing contests or other artificial methods of stimulating circulation have been used.

The Evening Bulletin is The Favored Guest in Philadelphia's Homes

Wherever there is a home in and around Philadelphia, where the English language is spoken, whether it be in the fashionable neighborhoods, the suburbs, or in the more closely-built sections, there you will nearly always find The Evening Bulletin, enjoying the proud prestige of the favored evening guest.

Its arrival in the evening is marked with pleasurable anticipation by each member of the family, all of whom do not count the day done until they have perused their favorite newspaper—The Evening Bulletin.

James Simpson Jr. Wins Steeplechase on English Course

James Simpson Jr., who with Mrs. Simpson, who was Alicia Patterson before their marriage, last fall, were winners in the Mellon Stakes at the track of England until the spread of the foot and mouth disease closed the country to horses and automobiles.

The Culcheth steeplechase, although contested by very moderate horses, was a most interesting race. The favorite, Orange Plum, slipped on the bridge at the water jump, after which Lady Oakleugh jumped for a long way to win, but she toppled over, tired out, at the penultimate jump, after which Eug Horn, once the horse of J. Taylor, the flat race jockey, was certain to win. Then Bright joined him but both were beaten easily in the run in by Klarinski, who, with a terrific burst of speed, with great ease, Klarinski was brought in by his owner after his success and will, I believe, be sent to America.

The tea at the Arts club, Pro-Musica, and La Chorale Française gave yesterday for Maurice Ravel at the Arts club was a bright and lively affair. There were two tea tables in the gallery decorated with ivory candles and a profusion of rubrum lilies and spiraea. Mrs. Livingston Fairbank was head of the reception committee. Others present were Mrs. Watson F. Blair, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wolcott Blair, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. William L. Baum, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mr. and Mrs. Perry de Fontenay, Mrs. J. Paul Volney, Mrs. Fletcher M. Durbin, Mrs. Agnes Foreman, Mrs. Clarence Norton Goodwin, Mrs. Helen Walton, Mrs. Freda Polz, Gerald Frank, Mrs. Charles Pope, and Mrs. Samuel P. S. Taylor.

The opening of the beautiful new galleries of the Art Institute, to be known as the Agnes Allerton wing for art and the new decorative art gallery, this afternoon with an art show to be given by the Antiquarians and the Needlework and Textile guild will be an auspicious event. In the absence of the Antiquarians' president, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, and the guild president, Mrs. Charles H. McFadden, who are ill, Mrs. Parmelee McFadden, Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Mrs. Walter Borden, Mrs. William O. Goodman, Mrs. Charles Garfield King, Mrs. Robert G. McGinnis, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, and Mrs. John H. Walling will receive. Mrs. Chauncey McCormick is president of the guild. The guild announces a program including an exhibition of needlework, materials for embroidery, and plans for guild activities next Wednesday afternoon from noon till 5 o'clock.

The Drama League who are attending the theater party at the performance of Glenn Hunter and Elinor Patterson in "Behold This Dreamer" are promising themselves an informal night with Miss Patterson, who is in the life of Mrs. Russell Codman Jr. and the scenes after the play to follow. Among the members who have made reservations are Mrs. Marvin E. Miner, Mrs. Walter F. Braun, Mrs. Fletcher M. Durbin, Mrs. Calvin A. Whyland, Miss Carrie Blair Neely, and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch.

Edward H. Bennett, designer of the Buckingham Memorial fountain in Grant park, who is one of the city's prize lights, will speak on "Chicago Beautiful" at the meeting of the Alliance Française at the Cordon next Friday evening. Mr. Bennett is to illustrate his theme with slides. He is president of the alliance this year.

Mrs. Richard Gambrell Jr. of 1114 Hinman avenue, Evanston, has cards out for a tea from 4 to 7 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 21, for Mrs. Herbert Durand Wilson, the bride of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who were married on Dec. 3, are to reside at 490 Sheridan road, Evanston. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr. have invited the guests for whom the wedding was in Palm Beach for their winter stay.

The Lawrence H. Armour, who have been at the Ambassador East, are in Arizona for a month or two. The Charles Harrington Chadwick's great party for New Year is on Feb. 1. Instead of staying at the Everglades club, they will be at Whitehall.

The N. London Hoyts Jr. of Winnetka depart Feb. 11 to join Mr. Hoyt's parents, who left Winnetka after Christmas for their annual trip southward. They are staying at their winter home at Green Cove Springs, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barbour of the hotel are departing tomorrow for Palm Beach, where the bride will be domiciled at the Hotel Huntington for the remainder of the winter. They plan several short motor trips to various parts of the state.

Miss Louise Burke of New York, a much feted personage from that city, leaves Chicago this morning, after a fortnight's visit with her sister, Mrs. John F. Wilson of 1516 North State Parkway.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—[Special.]—Invitations were issued today by President and Mrs. Coolidge for the reception in the White House, Feb. 2, in honor of the congress.

Col. Charles A. Ramsey of Chicago, who is at the Willard, had a small company at dinner tonight. Cyrus Bentley and E. E. Campbell, both of Chicago, also are at the Willard.

Installation of W. R. C. A patriotic program will be given tomorrow evening at the installation of officers of Benj. F. Butler Woman's Club and Mrs. Duncan H. Browne of Irving Park boulevard. Mrs. Anna Mountain is the newly elected president.

One Day Wrong.

I awoke with a sudden start to note that it was after 9 o'clock. My first reaction was to rush for the telephone and call the warehouse to tell them I was feeling sick and would not be down to work. The assistant manager answered the phone and I told him my story.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Anna Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Little Sally.

Little Sally, aged 5, was going to sleep last night at her aunt's. So her mother took her over there. When she heard her aunt tell her mother that she had been cleaning up quickly and said, "O, auntie, you didn't need to bother like that for me."

Henry H. Windsor to Wed Louise Hunter Tomorrow

Henry Haven Windsor, editor and publisher of Popular Mechanics, and Louise Hunter, former Metropolitan opera star, who is now playing in "Golden Dawn" on Broadway, are to be married at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, at noon tomorrow. It was revealed by friends of Mr. Windsor last night.

The announcement of the engagement was made some time ago, but no date for the wedding was definitely set. The couple will go to Atlantic City for their honeymoon and Miss Hunter will then resume her part in "Golden Dawn." Her plan is to retire from the stage at the end of the play's run. Mr. and Mrs. Windsor will reside at 419 Sheridan road, Winnetka.

Society at the Opera

Among the out of town guests who attended the performance last evening of "Die Fledermaus" at the Auditorium were President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Frank. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ayer and Miss Elizabeth McCormick.

With Mrs. George Ives Haight and her daughter, Miss Valerie Haight, was Mrs. Edmund Adcock. Occupying the Chauncey McCormick box were Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Ermining.

Miss Louise Carr was hostess in her father's box to Miss Frances Richardson, Miss Mary Barnes, Walter McCormick, Beach C. and Robert Ross.

Bernard A. Eckhart had with him Mr. and Mrs. George Everett, Mrs. Louise Lauer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McDowell. A large party in the Augustus S. Peabody box consisted of Miss Josephine Hornick, Miss Helen Dent, Miss Ruth Stamm, Miss Jeanne Knowles, Miss Mildred Bunker and Miss Jean Duncan.

Mrs. R. Mitchell, Capt. and Mrs. Delahanty, and Mrs. Arthur Levin were seated in the Robert Rutherford McCormick box.

Mrs. C. Eastman Dryden had as her guests Mrs. H. Wallace Caldwell and Bennett Cooke.

With Mrs. Anna M. Davis in the Harry Livingston Kaufman box were Mrs. Dwight Curtiss, Mrs. Raymond Tyler of Laramie, W. T. Wufel, and Peter McHugh.

A FRIEND IN NEED

By SALLY JOY BROWN.

Baby Clothing Needed.

"Although my husband works every day we have a difficult time getting along and supporting our two small children. I am expecting another baby soon and will need clothing for it. Do you think through your column you could get me some baby things and clothing for my boy, 2½, and the girl, 1 year old?" Mrs. C. M."

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS. This charming design is a perfectly straight one piece dress with an intriguing shirred drapey attached at the left side front. A stay underneath, just below the waistline, holds the garment close to the figure. Coin dot liberty blue chiffon velvet, wool crepe, crepe satin, soft, woolsens and silk crepe are among the chic materials for a design of this kind.

The pattern, $2.19, comes in sizes 16 to 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 3/8 yards of 40 inch material.
